

Second Best to None

Second best to none
Is a wicked place to be
Seeing no-one else ahead of me
I bless my luck
My season in the sun
Still no challenge
Second best to none

Every runner-up is a rival to defeat
You don't see them fall, I'm too discreet
Cause I don't mind
Not being number one
Long as I am
Second Best To None

It's good to be a friend
You're always saying you can trust me to the bitter end
I guess I never said, but there are complications
It's there for all to see
It should be pretty clear to everyone around us, only not to you, it would appear
There has to be a moment when the time is right for revelations

Second best to none...

Every runner-up is a rival to defeat
You don't see them fall, I'm too discreet
Cause I don't mind
Not being number one
Long as I am
Second Best to None

Your arm around my waist
A tantalizing scent of what I'm not allowed to taste
To feel you close is wonderful and devastating
We're standing hip to hip
My heart is in your hand and I keep wishing, may you never lose the grip
I want to blurt it out and yet I hold my tongue, forever waiting

Second best to none ...

So maybe now tonight
Yes, checking in I noticed that the bar in this hotel just seemed so right
A perfect place for candid talk in all discretion
Time at last for my confession

Second best to none ...
I wanna be your number one
But I'm OK with
